MEMORANDUM FOR THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

SUBJECT: Implementation of the National Security Council Directive on Communications Security

1. In order that implementation of the National Security Council Directive on Communications Security may become effective in the near future, I am submitting two memoranda for your consideration.
2. The memorandum attached as Inclosure 1 is proposed in order that the Special Committee of the National Security Council on Communications Security may cause the United States Communications Security Board to be convened. The Board may then proceed to establish such procedures, rules, and organizational structure as are necessary for it to become a functioning body. I recommend that your representative be proposed as Chairman pro tem, and upon concurrence of the Secretary of State, that a memorandum substantially as shown in Inclosure 1 be promulgated by the Executive Secretary of the National Security Council.
3. The memorandum attached as Inclosure 2 is proposed for the purpose of convening an ad hoc group within the Department of Defense to recommend to you a formal directive for implementation of the National Security Council Directive on Communications Security within the Department of Defense. The Director of the National Security Agency was designated Chairman by the Secretary of Defense for a similar ad hoc group which prepared an implementing directive for the National Security Council Intelligence Directive No. 9 (Revised). I have therefore proposed myself as Chairman of this ad hoc group. I recommend that you approve the memorandum attached as Inclosure 2 and forward it to the indicated addressees.
