Dear Dr. Baker:

Having just returned from an extensive overseas trip on Agency matters, I hasten to tell you how glad I am that you plan to attend the 6-7 April meeting of the National Security Agency Scientific Advisory Board.

The Chief of the NSA Registry for Consultants has been requested to make the necessary arrangements for your travel and to forward the necessary material directly to you.

Captain Holtwick tells me that you feel it might be more appropriate for someone from the Signal Corps, rather than yourself, to present a brief talk on the Research and Development Advisory Council of the Signal Corps. Perhaps we can discuss this further next week, with a view to making some such arrangement at a later date.

The two-day meeting of the NSA Scientific Advisory Board is scheduled to open at 9:00 a.m. on 6 April in the Staff Conference Room (19-244) at the Naval Security Station, Washington. It is planned to provide a series of presentations to the Board, bringing the members up to date on the major problem areas of the Agency.

I am looking forward to seeing you at the meeting.

Sincerely,
