Dear Captain Guertin:

Many thanks for your letter of 25 March. I was glad to get the reference to the article in Harper's Magazine, which I had not seen, and I went over it last night with much interest.

The other reference, The Scholar Adventures, I purchased when it first came to my notice a couple of months ago. I was interested to see, when I went through it, that notice was taken of a piece of work I did for Prof. Manly, in connection with the so-called Voynich Manuscript.

Thanking you for your kind remarks as to my lectures, and hoping to see you soon again, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Captain Arthur J. Guertin

Dear Mr. Flamburg:

My brother, Harry, has written me about your son Morton. I am having a personnel questionnaire sent to him with a view to having him taken on first in a civilian capacity and later on if his physical disabilities can be waived perhaps do something in a military direction. If the young man is anxious to do his bit there is no reason why he should not be very useful despite his handicap and I think he would find our field interesting.

Sincerely yours,
