COMMENT #2

1. We are not aware of any qualified candidate for the position of Managing Editor.

2. In regard to other aspects of the Journal, attached is a copy of a recommendation which was made to C/S in April 1953 proposing a NSA service-wide publication which would serve as a medium for disseminating information to the cryptologic agencies and their field stations as well as within NSA. Colonel Hetherington, acting for C/S, stated at that time:

"A year from now an NSA service-wide publication should be reopened. I personally feel that it is a good idea but premature now. /s/ H."

Due to non-availability of personnel spaces, no further action has been taken on this matter to date; however, it may be worthy of consideration in formulating the policy and plans for the Journal.

This pertains to an overall Agency publication and not to the Tech Journal.

1. A readership study of the Comptroller Review has recently been completed. As a result of that study, we have assessed the present value of the Review and have developed certain recommendations for its improvement. A collateral recommendation was that the Comptroller Review, presently restricted to NSA, be enlarged to provide a medium for disseminating information to the cryptologic agencies and their components.

2. Since the NSA mission is to achieve complete integration and coordination in the cryptologic effort, coordination and sharing of management thinking and experience would appear to follow. A publication devoted to providing an understanding of the problems and programs of NSA and the individual cryptologic agencies is considered one means of achieving this integrated effort.

3. It is therefore suggested that consideration be given to the inception of a publication for all cryptologic agencies in lieu of the present Comptroller Review. Since such a publication would extend the scope of the Review to where it is no longer purely a "management" publication, we do not consider that it would be a COMP responsibility. It is therefore proposed that staff responsibility for such a publication be assigned to P/P.

4. Although the ASA Review has been cancelled, publications such as the proposed are being issued within the Department of Defense at the present time; examples being the Navy's BuS & A Monthly Newsletter, and MSTS issued by the Military Sea Transport Service. If the general idea is acceptable, it is recommended that P/P develop a suggested publication in cooperation with the Offices and Staff Divisions and submit the proposal to the Bureau of the Budget for final approval.

5. Inclosure - 1 provides an outline of the significant features of the proposed publication.

OUTLINE OF PROPOSED PERIODICAL FOR NSA AND THE CRYPTOLOGIC AGENCIES

I. PURPOSE

To assist in the integration of NSA and the individual cryptologic agencies by providing an understanding of NSA's and the agencies' problems and programs.

II. SCOPE

A monthly periodical of a nondirective nature for all supervisory personnel in NSA, ASA, NSG, AFSS, and all their subordinate field activities, units, and stations.

III. RESPONSIBILITY

1. Policy would be established by an Editorial Board, composed of representatives of NSA and the three Services. DIRNSA would exercise final authority.

2. Preparation would be the responsibility of P/P. A systematic approach would be devised for obtaining articles from the four organizations. All material would be approved by the cognizant activity prior to publication.

3. Staff to prepare this publication would, as a minimum, require an Editor GS 11/9, Editorial Asst. GS 7/5, and Copy Clerk GS-4. This is based on an informal study of the staffs of similar publications.

4. Printing would be done by C/SEC or by other suitable D/D printing facilities.

IV. FORMAT

1. Similar to the Navy's BuS & A Monthly Newsletter (Inclosure - 2), with emphasis on scheduled departments such as Personnel Notes, Security, Logistics, Communications, Training, etc., for which material would be prepared by cognizant NSA and Service staff groups.

2. Security classification of "SECRET"; this would allow inclusion of more material than a "CONFIDENTIAL" classification would provide, without materially increasing the handling precautions.

3. From 4 to 56 pages in length.

~~RESTRICTED SECURITY INFORMATION~~

4. Black and white (no color), with both photographs and illustrations.

V. COPIES

There are approximately 5100 supervisors in the four organizations. A reader ratio of approximately 4 to 1 would result in about 1500 copies being required.

VI. COST

A general estimate of the yearly direct costs is:

Printing & binding (25¢ a copy)	$ 4,200.
Staff costs (3 civilians)	13,430.
Misc. costs	2,370.
TOTAL	$20,000.
